CASE STUDY

A key part of the digitization process in the education sector is document generation. It boosts efficiency in everyday tasks. Ineffective process which bases on preparing huge numbers of documents one by one, especially in peak periods of time, develops into a click that improves the whole tedious and time-consuming doc gen. It just sounds like a magic trick, but it's not. It is Aveneer. So let's take a look at how it works for one of our customers.

WSB MERITO Universities is the largest network of private universities in Poland, with campuses in 11 cities. With over 29 years of experience in higher education, it has served more than 325,000 graduates.

Before the Aveneer era

WSB MERITO Universities was not able to process large number of records and data. They used a different tool that was prone to errors, leading to disruptions in the enrollment process. Complex and tedious process, required an extensive manual input and management. The previous document generation tool was slow. Preparing a set of documents for a single student required 30 minutes.

It's not a trick. It's just one click!

Every educational institution knows too well how the recruitment periods for students look like. This is time of intensified work, all hands on deck to ensure that recruitment runs smoothly and error-free, and that a mass of documents reaches hundreds of candidates registering for studies.

Let's imagine the people who had to deal with large volumes and stacks of papers. The amount of documents to prepare must have been frustrating and overwhelming. The time devoted to work was definitely too long. Previous approach was also burdened with mistakes, typos and other errors in the documents, which had to be corrected later, increasing work, employee involvement and time. The document generation process definitely needed automation.

Here's how Robert Juszczuk, Head of Sales at WSB MERITO Universities comments the switch to Aveneer

With Aveneer, we are just one click away from getting all documents for each student - accurate and fast. Our employees now have more time to serve our students better

Aveneer – make a wish!

At present WSB MERITO Universities uses Aveneer to automate document creation in its recruitment process, saving time and serving future students more effectively.

During the recruitment peak, they massively generate all the documents for each student applicants, such as:

- studies application,
- personal questionnaire,
- contract,
- medical certificate,
- enrollment on the student list,
- rector's decision,
- referral for examination,
- annex to the contract,
- certificate for foreigners (additionally in two language versions),
- various types of statements,
- other dedicated documents ordered by the user.

Implementing Aveneer has done more than just save time for MERITO. It has helped us attract the best students and increased the ease of contacting and reaching them
